PARTNERSHIP

Rebecca Daulman, Chief Executive Officer

Rebecca has enjoyed a broad range of roles and responsibilities in the education sector during her career which, to date, has spanned more than twenty years. She is passionate about working collaboratively with a range of stakeholders in order to provide the best possible learning opportunities and life experiences for children and young people so they can flourish and reach their full potential. As a result, in addition to two headships in outstanding schools, Rebecca has embraced many other exciting leadership opportunities, which have included working with amazing teams in order to set up and lead a cluster of Children's Centres, an Extended Education Support Service and a Teaching School. Throughout her career, Rebecca has also had the pleasure of offering school improvement support in a range of schools, including when working as a National Leader of Education.

Theresa Allotey, Chief Financial Officer

Theresa is a dynamic and results-oriented leader with extensive experience in educational leadership and operational management. As the Chief Financial Officer for Agora Learning Partnership, she is responsible for managing the Trust's budget across ten primary schools, collaborating closely with headteachers to establish strategic financial plans and enhance financial processes. Prior to her role at Agora, Theresa served as the Chief Operating Officer at Westminster Academy, where she significantly reduced staff turnover and implemented a digital performance management system. Over the last decade her strategic insights and financial acumen have been instrumental in generating additional income and improving stakeholder relationships. With a strong foundation in school business management, she is dedicated to driving excellence and ensuring that every student achieves their full potential, not only through working within schools but also through her service as a Trustee on the board of an inner London secondary school.

Michelle Miles, Chief Operating Officer

Michelle is a skilled project manager with a proven track record in account and stakeholder management built over 10 years in the pharmaceutical, science and healthcare industries. She has successfully transferred this experience into the education sector. Consistently delivering results and driving operational change in academies for the past 4 years as Chief Administration and Data Officer of a large primary and secondary phase multi academy trust. In addition, Michelle has expertise in governance following 5 years as a member of a secondary academy governing board and a multi academy trust admissions committee. Michelle has a strong commitment to the learning and development of young people and a passion for operationally supporting schools, enabling school leaders to focus on teaching and curriculum to improve educational outcomes.
